What's on the Cd-Rom

Each collection you receive includes a lot more than designs. You will be missing out if you don't explore the whole CD-Rom. There will be four folders on each CD-Rom, the folders include the following items:

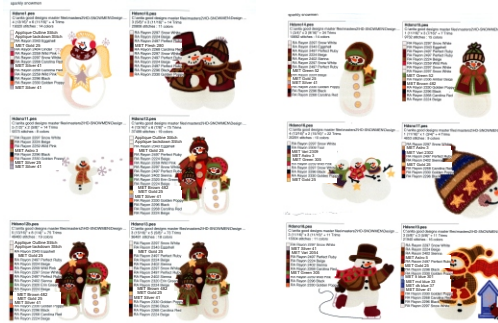

Catalog

The Anita Goodesign catalog includes photos of all of our collections along with photographs of hundreds of projects. We hope all of the projects will inspire you.

Designs

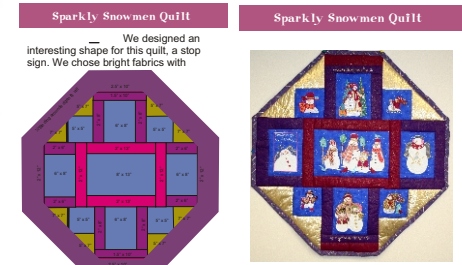

All of the designs from the collection are in this folder. Once you open the designs folder you will see folders for all of the different machine types.

Tutorials

The tutorials folder is jam packed with information. Each collection has a specific tutorial that demonstrates all of the techniques and projects that go with. There is of course all of the thread colors we used in the design. Our tutorials are unique in the fact that they consist of mostly photographs to guide you through the project step-by-step. On some collections we also give you additional information like scans of the fabric we used, quilt patterns, home decor patterns and much more!!!!

There is also our brand new color guide that will explain exactly how we choose colors for our designs and projects. This is a must read. While in the folder be sure to explore the original home decor tutorial which will show you how to create perfect towels, applique and more.

Re-Sizing Program

If you ever had trouble re-sizing designs you won't any more. We include a free re-sizing program that will allow you to adjust the size of our designs. The folder contains the program itself as well as the tutorial. We suggest reading the tutorial before installing the program.

File and Licensing Information

If you want to embroider our designs on garments or other items and sell them you may. The limit per design is 50 embroidered garments. You can do up to 50 without specific permission.

There is a PDF file included on the CD-Rom titled "Licensing and Design Instructions". This document will give you valuable information regarding the various file formats that are included on the Cd-Rom. We suggest reading this file if you are having trouble opening your designs. The file also contains the permission form for embroidering more than 50 units of our designs.

New!

Color Guide

Be sure to read our new guide to choosing colors. This is a 30 page document that details how we choose thread colors and it also includes tutorials on how to change colors in your software! The color guide is located in the tutorial folder.

New!

Madeira Colors

We switched to Madeira thread! All of the older design collections now contain an additional pdf file in the tutorials folder that lists the Madeira thread colors for that collection. If you need specific information regarding applique or projects please refer to the original tutorial. The Madeira conversions only include thread colors.
